

1. Embarrassing yourself speaking in another language is much more satisfying than embarrassing yourself in your own.
2. The buzz you get during wine-tasting program improves your language skills dramatically
3. If you get frustrated with classes, you can literally put your head under water while scuba diving.
4. People in Spain are WAY better looking.
5. With all of the new locations you can study your way through more of the country.
6. When you fall down flamenco dancing, you'll have the vocabulary to ask someone to help you up.
7. Learn how to say, "surf's up" in another language with the Spanish and Surfing program.
8. Learning Spanish can open up many more employment opportunities.
9. You won't get stuck paying as many tourist prices if you know how to strike a deal in Spanish.
10. Spain can be just the beginning of a long European vacation.