Sevilla

The Andalusian capital of Sevilla offers something for every member of a group. It is modern, but moderately sized and steeped in its own unique history and culture. Sevilla's past is evidenced in its Moorish architecture, grand cathedral, flamenco shows, bullfights, and traditional religious celebrations. It is also home to the largest old quarter in Europe. Sevilla's residents will make any group feel at home. They are warm and lively and welcome students into their homes with open arms. Activity and Tour Descriptions

Cathedral de Sevilla

The Cathedral is the largest Gothic building in the world, and the third-largest church in Europe. Construction of the Cathedral started in the 1400's and took centuries to complete. It was completed by 1507 and was originally all Gothic, though work done after its central dome collapsed in 1511 was mostly in the Renaissance style. It is built on the site of an ancient mosque and it claims to host the remains of Columbus. The mosque's beautiful minaret, La Giralda, still stands on its eastern side, but the cathedral's bulky exterior gives few other hints of the treasures within.

Parque de María Luisa

This large area was transformed for Seville's 1929 international fair, the Exposición Iberoamericana, when architects covered it with an array of unique buildings, many of them calling to mind Seville's eras of past glory or imitating the native styles of Spain's former colonies. In its midst, the large Parque de María Luisa, with 3500 magnificent trees, is a beautiful reprieve from the traffic and noise of the city.

Córdoba

Once the largest city of Roman Spain, Córdoba later formed the heart of the western Islamic empire. Today, the city is a typical bustling, noisy Andalusian city, with lots of atmosphere, fascinating sites, intriguing small streets and shops and the inevitable fabulous choice of restaurants and bars. Places to visit are The Mosque, one of the most popular monuments in the region, the city walls that once bounded the old Jewish quarter and the Alcazar that are walled gardens with water terraces and fountains.
